

Access BPL makes a great deal of sense in providing individuals with greater opportunity for internet access connectivity. However, as with all forms of technology, the good must be weighed with the bad. If Access BPL causes interference with other communication methods, then how can the good outweigh the bad? Customers have cheap and clear options for high speed internet access. Access BPL must wait until it is safe before becoming one of these options.